NEW YORK--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Jun. 18, 2024-- Workiva Inc. (NYSE: WK), a global leader in assured integrated reporting, today announced the launch of Workiva Carbon. With Workiva Carbon, companies can:

- Measure: Collect real-time data from their ERP platforms, accounting systems, and utility providers, and track greenhouse gas (GHG) emissions across facilities and locations using thousands of externally validated emissions factors that cover 240+ countries and territories. This data enables companies to automatically calculate carbon emissions across scope 1, 2, and 3.
- Manage: Create supplier engagement surveys with easy-to-fill forms that capture and connect critical data to reports and dashboards, enabling them to set science-based targets and reduction pathways, assess ESG risk, and take steps to decarbonize the supply chain.
- Collaborate: Gather, share, and link the same set of trusted data to deliverables across business functions—including sustainability, accounting, finance, audit, risk, legal, and more—without the risks associated with manual edits, multiple versions, downloads of disparate spreadsheets, or last-minute changes.
- Report: Automatically align emissions data to voluntary and mandated frameworks created within the Workiva platform and deliver consistent disclosures for regulators, investors, and other audit-ready stakeholders, thanks to full data lineage and history, attached evidence, and granular permissions.

"The launch of Workiva Carbon enhances Workiva's established and leading ESG platform, positioning us to help businesses advance their sustainability efforts," said Julie Iskow, president and chief executive officer of Workiva. "Now our customers can streamline Greenhouse Gas (GHG) emissions tracking, set science-based targets, and meet stakeholder demands amidst the changing investor and regulatory landscape. Bringing these carbon capabilities into our platform highlights our unwavering commitment to providing our customers a comprehensive solution for Financial reporting, ESG, and GRC."
